Dear Secretary Duterte,

Greetings!

We, the Organization of Social Studies Teachers in the Philippines, Inc. (OSSTP), in partnership with the Social Studies Education Area of the College of Education in UP Diliman are conducting our 3rd Webinar on Social Studies Education with the theme: "Meeting the Challenges of Teaching Civic Engagement and Local History in the Social Studies Classroom". It will be held via the Zoom platform on 22 and 29 July 2023 (Saturdays) from 9:00am to 12:00nn. (Please see attached program).

This webinar provides an important forum for elementary and secondary schoolteachers, scholars, and administrators to gather and exchange ideas on how to enhance pedagogical tools and teaching resources specifically for civic engagement and local history.

The first day of the webinar will focus on instructional practices and resources that foster civic engagement among students, and will also address Araling Panlipunan curriculum content standard- paglahok sa mga gawaing pansibiko tungo sa mapanagutang pagkamamamayan (participation in civic activities towards responsible citizenship). At this time when our democratic society is challenged by political polarization; and where making informed decision is clouded by disinformation, teaching civic engagement has become even more necessary and relevant.

The second day of the webinar will explore strategies and resources for teaching local history and will address the standard- pag-unawa sa kasaysayan ng kinabibilangang komunidad [understanding local history]. Knowing the stories that shape the community or the history closest to his/her own consciousness helps build a strong sense of identity.

We are inviting teachers, researchers, and graduate students to participate in this webinar. Hence, we would like to request for an endorsement from your office. We are also happy to announce that the webinar has been granted 5 CPD units by the Professional Regulation Commission (PRC).

The fee for this webinar is PHP 500.00 for non-OSSTP members and PHP 350.00 for OSSTP members. Interested participants may register online through this link:
